World Population Day 2018 – ‘Family Planning is a Human Right’

The World Population Day is celebrated every year on 11th of July in order to draw the attention towards issues related to population. ‘Family planning is a human right’ has been selected as the theme this year.

Family planning is an essential pre-requisite to improve health and well-being of mothers, children and families. However, at present, stagnation of family planning performance is observed, for which one reason is gaps in accessibility. Since the International Conference on Human Rights, held in Tehran in 1968, family planning is considered as a basic human right and it could be perceived as an infringement. In order to improve accessibility, family planning clinics need to be established according to current national norms.

According to the data available at Family Health Bureau, the number of family planning clinics available falls short of national norms in the Medical Officer of Health areas in the attached list (Annex I), in your Province.

As such you are kindly requested to take necessary action during the month of July to address this critical gap in service provision.

Thank you,

Dr. Anil Jasinghe
